This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS.

The following instructions are given for the information and guidance of voters: (a) A voter upon entering the polling place and giving his name and residence, will receive a ballot from the ballot clerk which must have endorsed thereon the names or initials of both ballot clerks, and no other ballot can be used. Upon receiving his ballot, the voter must retire alone to a booth or compartment and prepare the same for voting. A ballot clerk may inform the voter as to the proper manner of marking a ballot, but he must not advise or indicate in any manner whom to vote for. * * *

(b) If a voter wishes to vote for all the candidates nominated by any party he shall make a cross or other mark under the party designation printed at the top of the ballot in the circle made for that purpose. A ballot so marked and having no other mark will be counted for all the candidates of that party in the column underneath, unless the names of some of the candidates of the party have been erased or a name shall be written in or a cross mark be placed in the square at the right of the name or names of candidates in another column. If the voter does not wish to vote for all the candidates nominated by one party, he shall mark his ballot by making a cross or mark in the square at the right of the name of the candidate for whom he intends to vote or by inserting or writing in the name of the candidate.

(c) A voter may vote for an entire group of candidates for presidential electors by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the names of candidates for president and vice president whose names appear in the column above the names of the candidates for presidential electors, or he may vote for the candidates for presidential electors by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the name of each candidate for elector for whom he wishes to vote. If a voter does not wish to vote for any one or more candidates for presidential electors in the group, he may erase the name of such candidate or candidates and the cross (X) or mark at the right of the names of the candidates for president and vice president shall count as a vote for each of the other candidates for presidential electors in such group whose names are not erased. If a voter wishes to vote for another person in place of a candidate whose name he has erased he may insert or write in the name of each such person in one of the spaces in the blank column at the right of the ticket. If a voter does not wish to vote for any candidates for president or vice president or for any presidential electors, whose names appear upon the ballot, he may insert or write in the names of the candidates for president and vice president, and presidential electors to a number equal to the number of electors to be elected, in the appropriate spaces in the blank column at the right of the ballot.

(d) A voter may vote upon a question submitted to a vote of the people by making a cross (X) or mark in the square at the right of the answer which he intends to give.

(e) The ballot should not be marked in any other manner. If the ballot be spoiled, it must be returned to the ballot clerk, who must issue another in its stead, but not more than three in all shall be issued to any one voter. Five minutes' time is allowed in booth to mark ballot. Unofficial ballots or memorandum to assist the voter in marking his ballot can be taken into the booth, and may be used to copy from. The ballot must not be shown so that any person can see how it has been marked by the voter.

(f) After it is marked it should be folded so that the inside cannot be seen, but so that the printed indorsements and signatures of the ballot clerks on the outside may be seen. Then the voter should pass out of the booth or compartment, give his name to the inspector in charge of the ballot box, hand him his ballot to be placed in the box, and pass out of the voting place.

(g) A voter, who declares to the presiding officer that he is unable to read, or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to mark his ballot, can have assistance of one or two election officers in marking same, to be chosen by the voter; and if he declares that he is totally blind, he may be assisted by any person chosen by him from among the legal voters of the county. The presiding officer may administer an oath in his discretion, as to such person's disability.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Concurrent with circuit court for cases not over $25,000. SECTION 1. There is hereby conferred on the county court of Walworth county, jurisdiction in all civil actions and proceedings in law and in equity, concurrent with and equal with the jurisdiction of the circuit court in said county, for all claims, demands and sums and to and concerning all property, not exceeding the sum or value of twenty-five thousand dollars; provided, that said county court shall have jurisdiction in all actions in said county for the foreclosure of mortgages and mechanic liens, in which the amount claimed does not exceed the sum above mentioned, although the property to be affected by the judgment exceeds the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars in value; and of all actions for divorce or for affirmance or annulment of marriage contracts; and all actions for removing clouds and quieting title to real estate and all actions for partition of real estate; and in all bastardy actions and in all criminal cases except murder, manslaughter and homicide; and to the amount and within the limits aforesaid the said county court shall be a court of general jurisdiction, with the same power and jurisdiction in all civil and criminal actions and proceedings, and including the power of review of records on certiorari, discharging mortgages of record, and such other special powers as are now or may hereafter be conferred by the statute upon the circuit court, coming within the above imitations, as belong to and are exercised by the circuit court in and for said county.

Land cases optional between county and circuit courts. SECTION 2. All actions commenced before a justice of the peace in Walworth county, where the title to lands will come in question, and which were heretofore required by law to be sent and certified to the circuit court, may hereafter at the election of the party making the plea or answer showing that the title of lands will come in question, be sent and certified either to the circuit court or to the county court.

Appeals; option to choose county court. SECTION 3. Appeals from judgments of justices of the peace in said county, may hereafter be taken either to the circuit court or county court of said county at the option of the appellant, and if taken to said county court such appeal shall be tried and determined therein in the same manner as is by law required in the circuit court, and in accordance with the rules and practice of the county court of Walworth county in force at the time of said trial, and all laws providing for taking appeals in civil actions from justices of the peace or justices' courts of said county, shall hereafter be construed to apply equally to such appeals when taken to said county court.

Writs and legal process. SECTION 4. The said county court, within the limits aforesaid, shall be a court of record, with a clerk and seal, and shall have full power and authority to issue all writs and legal process, proper and necessary to carry into effect the jurisdiction conferred by this act and the laws of this state, and to carry out such jurisdiction shall have and exercise all powers now possessed, or which may hereafter be possessed by the circuit courts of this state, and the same proceedings shall be had by the parties to procure such writs and process as in circuit courts and such writs and process shall be issued, executed and returned in the same manner and with like effect as in the circuit courts.

Criminal jurisdiction; bastardy cases. SECTION 5. All examinations, recognizances and commitments from or by any examining magistrate of said county in bastardy cases and in all criminal actions, except charges of murder, manslaughter and homicide, shall be certified and returned to such county court, instead of to the circuit court for said county, within the time prescribed by law, and the attendance of witnesses upon the trial of any person so committed shall be secured in the same manner as provided by law in the circuit court, and said court shall have power to appoint any attorney or counselor to defend a person charged with any offense in the same manner and upon the same conditions as the circuit court may now or hereafter appoint any attorney or counselor to defend persons charged with any offense.

Jury trial. SECTION 6. Every issue of law in any civil action or proceeding in said court, and every issue of fact in any action heretofore cognizable only in a court of equity, shall be tried by the court, but the court may order such issue of fact tried by a jury; every issue of fact, in a civil case properly triable by a jury, and not heretofore cognizable in a court of equity, shall, on demand of either party, as hereinafter provided, be tried by a jury of not less than twelve persons, unless a less number be agreed upon by the parties, and if no jury be demanded by either party, shall be tried by the court. Every criminal action shall be tried in the same manner as in the circuit court, unless a jury is expressly waived as herein provided.

Bestowal of justice court powers, procedure and jurisdiction. SECTION 7. The county judge shall have all the jurisdiction and powers that are now or hereafter may be conferred upon justices of the peace in said county in all civil and criminal actions and proceedings and the power to hear and determine all such cases although the title to land may come into question therein, but shall not have power to hold preliminary examinations in bastardy actions or in criminal cases.

All provisions of law which may at any time be in force relative to justices' courts, to actions and proceedings and judgments therein, and appeals therefrom, in civil and criminal cases, shall apply to said county court, so far as applicable, except as otherwise provided in this section.

The phonographic reporter shall report the proceedings of trials as in other cases, and no charge shall be made against the parties therefor, unless a transcript is furnished under the provisions if section 23 of this act.

The clerk of said court shall keep a justice docket, shall have the care and custody of all books, papers and records therein, shall be present at all trials, shall administer oaths, shall issue process as in other cases, shall tax the costs, and perform all other clerical and ministerial duties required of and imposed upon justices of the peace in such cases, and perform all such duties by and under the direction of the judge of said court. For all services so performed he shall receive the same compensation a justice of the peace would receive, except he shall receive nothing for taking testimony and his fees shall in no case exceed five dollars.

All fines and all costs collected by the clerk in every civil action and in all criminal prosecutions and proceedings under the general statutes of this state tried or determined by the county court, which, if tried or determined by a justice of the peace would be paid over to the county treasurer, shall be accounted for and paid over quarterly by the clerk of said county court unto the county treasurer of the county of Walworth.

Costs and fees shall be taxed and allowed in the same amount as would be allowed in justice court, except clerk's fees shall be taxed at a sum not to exceed five dollars, and the taking down of evidence shall not be charged for or taxed.

The fees of the witnesses, jurors and officers shall be the same as would be allowed in justice court for similar services except when otherwise provided.

The judge of said court shall be disqualified to hear or determine any case in which he shall have acted as counsel for either party, except by agreement of the parties.

In case of the disqualification of said judge to hear, try or determine any case, or in case of his disability, sickness or temporary absence, or in case of a change of venue from him in any case he shall by an order in writing filed and recorded in said court, appoint a properly qualified justice of the peace, not otherwise disqualified, to discharge the duties of such judge relative to such action or proceeding, or during such disability, sickness or temporary absence. The justice of the peace so appointed shall in every case have all the powers of such judge over the actions and proceedings that may come before him. He shall receive for his services the sum of five dollars per day to be paid out of the county treasury and deducted from the salary of said judge.

When acting under the provisions of this section said court shall not be a court of record and no state tax shall be collected on cases commenced in said court by virtue of this section.

The provisions of this section shall apply only to actions and proceedings within the jurisdiction of justices of the peace and to no other actions or proceedings whatsoever. And no other section of this act shall have any application whatsoever to actions or proceedings within the jurisdiction of justices of the peace.

Execution: circuit court powers conferred. SECTION 8. All judgments, orders and decrees, made and entered in and by said county court, shall have the same force, effect and lien, and be executed and carried into effect and enforced, as judgments, orders and decrees, made and entered in the circuit court, and all the remedies given, and proceedings provided for the collection and enforcement of the judgments, orders and decrees of the circuit court, shall apply to and be exercised by and pertain to said county court.

Supreme court's review same as for circuit court. SECTION 9. All orders and judgments of said county court may be reviewed by the supreme court in the same manner and with like effect that judgments and orders of the circuit court may be reviewed; and the supreme court shall have the same power and jurisdiction over such actions, proceedings, orders and judgments as it has over actions, proceedings, orders and judgments in the circuit court of said county, and the parties shall have the same rights to writs of error and appeal from said county court to the supreme court of this state as now, or may hereafter be, allowed by law from circuit courts of this state and may demand and shall be entitled to receive from the judge of said county court a bill of exceptions or case and have the same settled in the same manner and under the same restrictions as in the circuit court and the same shall be heard and settled within the same time as now required or may hereafter be required in the circuit court, by law or the rules and practice of said circuit court or of the said county court relative thereto.

Terms of county court; special and general. SECTION 10. There shall be held at the county seat of said county ten general terms, a term on the second Monday of each of the following months, to-wit: January, February, March, April, May, October. November and December, and a term on the last Monday of June and on the first Monday of September of each year, special terms of said court may be called and held by order of the judge of said court, a copy of which order shall be mailed at least fifteen days before such special term to each of the practicing attorneys of said county. All such special terms of said court shall be held at the county seat of Walworth county aforesaid.

Judgment in vacation; same as of circuit court. SECTION 11. Judgment may be had and entered in vacation in said county court, subject to the limitations of the jurisdiction of said court, if the defendant fail to answer the complaint, in the same manner and in like cases wherein judgments may now be had and entered in the circuit in vacation, and the clerk of said court shall have the same powers and authority relative thereto as he has by law or otherwise in circuit court.

Absence of judge; who is to preside. SECTION 12. If the judge authorized to hold such court shall not attend for that purpose before two o'clock in the afternoon of the day appointed for such court to meet, it shall be the duty of the sheriff or the clerk to adjourn said court from day to day for three days, unless the judge shall sooner appear; and if the judge does not appear within that time, the court shall stand adjourned for the term, and all cases continued until the next term of such court. Any circuit judge or any county judge of a county court having civil jurisdiction may hold court in event of the absence, sickness or other disability of the judge of said county court upon the request of the judge thereof, and while so doing he shall have the same power as if elected judge of said county court.

Change of venue or calling in other judge. SECTION 13. The provisions of law applicable to change of venue in the circuit courts of this state, shall be applicable to said county court, except that when the venue of any action shall be so changed, it shall be changed to the circuit court of Walworth county; and such change of venue shall not prevent the granting by said circuit court of a further change of venue as provided in section 2622 of the Wisconsin statutes of 1898, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as abrogating the right to a change of venue provided for by section 2621 of said statutes, and when such change of venue shall be made, it shall be made by said county court direct to the proper county for the trial of the action and provided further that section 2625 of said statutes so far as applicable shall apply to said county court, and that the judge thereof shall have the right to call upon the circuit judge or any county judge of a county having civil jurisdiction, to attend, hold court and try such action, and while so doing he shall have the same powers as if elected judge of said county court. If any person charged upon indictment or information with a criminal offense shall have procured a change of venue to the circuit court of Walworth county, said county court shall commit or hold the party to bail to appear at the next term of the circuit court, and the clerk of said county shall transmit all papers and a copy of the records and proceedings in said case, properly certified to be such under the seal of said court, to the said circuit court, which shall then have full jurisdiction of this action; all recognizances previously given in such cases and returned to said county court may be enforced in said circuit court as fully as if they had been originally returned thereto. In like manner shall all such cases which might originally have been brought in said county court or appealed thereto where a change of venue is allowed or directed by the circuit court on the grounds of prejudice of the judge thereof be removed to said county court provided. however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as abrogating or abridging the power conferred upon the circuit court by section 2625 of Wisconsin statutes of 1898. In all such cases in either said circuit or county courts if the affidavit shall allege that the circuit and county judges are both prejudiced the case shall be removed to some adjoining circuit unless some other judge shall be called to preside as above provided.

Transmission of cases to circuit court. SECTION 14. The judge of the county court shall be disqualified to try and determine any case in which he shall have acted as counsel for either party, except by agreement of the parties and he shall transmit all such cases to the circuit judge of said county; the judge of the county court may also transmit to the circuit court any other case or proceeding before him, if, in his discretion, he deem it expedient; and the circuit court shall thereupon proceed to try and determine the same in the same manner as if said cases or proceedings had originated in the circuit court.

Judge not to act as counsel; when. SECTION 15. No judge of said county court, while holding such office, shall be in any manner engaged or act as attorney or counsel in any action, cause or proceeding in or which he has good reason to believe will be brought in any of the courts of this county, not give advice or opinion therein; and the judge of said court shall not give advice to parties litigant in any action pending before such judge, or which he has reason to believe will be brought before him for decision; or draft or prepare any papers or other proceedings relating to any such matter or action, except when expressly authorized by law upon penalty for any violation hereof of removal from office.

Jury: selection; waiver. SECTION 16. Jurors shall be chosen for each term of said court by the same persons and in the same manner as jurors in the circuit court and all provisions of law, rules and practice relating to the selection, qualifications, duties and compensation of jurors in the circuit court shall be applicable to said county court, except as otherwise provided herein.

No jurors shall be summoned to attend upon any ter[illegible] said court unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of the judge that a jury panel is necessary.

At least six days before each term, unless otherwise ordered by the judge, the clerk shall, in the presence of the judge, draw from the list of persons provided therefor, twenty-four jurors for such term and the list so selected shall forthwith be filed in the office of said clerk.

When any criminal action or proceeding is pending at any term of said court the clerk, if requested at least six days before such term by the district attorney, or by any defendant, or by the attorney for any defendant in such action, shall issue a venire to the sheriff of said county to summon such jurors returnable at such time as the judge may direct.

In every criminal action when no such request is made and in every civil action involving the trial of an issue of facts, except as herein otherwise provided, in which a jury trial is demanded by either party or ordered by the judge, the clerk shall draw from the panel of jurors selected for such term the jury for such action. The plaintiff or plaintiffs shall be entitled to six peremptory challenges and the defendant or defendants to a like number of challenges to be made alternately, from a full list, the plaintiff first challenging. If any of the jurors named in such venire shall not be found, or shall fail to appear, or if there shall be any legal objection to any that shall appear, or if any of them be excused by the court or parties, the court may direct the sheriff or his undersheriff, or any of his deputies, to summon a sufficient number of talesmen to supply the deficiency; provided, that not more than four such talesmen shall be selected from the residents of any one town, city or village, except by consent of parties. The officer summoning the same may insert the names of such talesmen on the venire.

The court may set down any case on the calendar for trial on any particular day. When a civil case on the calendar is called, the court may then, or at any time thereafter, require the parties in such action to determine and elect whether they wish a jury, and if both parties elect to try such case without a jury, or if both parties neglect or refuse to so determine or elect at said time, neither party shall be entitled to a trial by jury, but the court may, at its discretion, grant a trial by jury; and if a trial is demanded, the court may then or at any time afterwards direct that a jury be selected as aforesaid in such case, and issue a venire therefor, returnable at the time fixed for the trial of such action. If for any cause, in selecting a jury, the panel shall become exhausted, an additional list of twenty-four shall be drawn in the same manner as the original panel was drawn.

In all criminal actions jury may be waived by the accused by filing a written waiver or by his consent thereto in open court entered on the minutes.

Jurors shall be summoned as in the circuit court, and the county judge may direct at what time jurors shall be summoned to appear.

CHAPTER 247.

AN ACT to enable cities of the first class to acquire, own and operate railway terminals including main tracks, belt lines, spurs, sidetracks and other necessary connections, and granting authority to any such city to rent or lease the same to railroads and other common carriers and to authorize private persons and corporations to connect therewith, and to issue bonds or railway terminal certificates in payment therefor.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Railway terminals defined. SECTION 1. The term "railway terminals" as used in this act shall include depots, stations, main tracks, belt lines, sidetracks, spurs and property of whatever nature used in connection therewith.

Terminal lands and buildings; power to acquire. SECTION 2. Cities of the first class are hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, establish, own and operate railway terminals and to permit connections therewith by private persons and corporations and for that purpose may condemn lands and other property in the manner provided by law, and may erect, keep and maintain such buildings and equipment thereof as the common council of said city shall by ordinance provide.

Terminal leases and permits; appeals to commission. SECTION 3. Every city acquiring or establishing any railway terminals under the provisions of this act is hereby authorized and empowered to rent, lease or permit the use of the same or any part thereof upon such terms and for such compensation as may be agreed upon between the common council of said city and any railroad desiring to use the same, and may permit connections therewith by private persons or corporations by means of spurs or sidetracks on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon between the persons or corporations desiring to use the same and the common council of said city.

In the event of the inability of parties to agree upon the terms for the use of said railway terminals either party may appeal to the railroad commission of Wisconsin, which shall have power to fix rates and terms.

Bonds to cover cost; payable from rentals; maximum issue and mortgage security; foreclosure with reservations; popular vote requisite. SECTION 4. The cities acquiring and establishing railway terminals under the provisions of this act are hereby authorized and empowered to issue "railway terminal certificates," in payment of the whole or any part of such terminals. Such railway terminal certificates shall not be or become an obligation or liability of the city, or payable out of any general fund thereof, but shall be payable solely out of a specified portion of the revenue or income to be derived from the rental of such railway terminals, for the acquisition or purchase of which they are issued. Such railway terminal certificates shall not be issued and secured on any railway terminal property in amount in excess of the cost to the city of such property, as hereinbefore provided, and ten per cent. of such cost in addition thereto.

In order to secure the payment of any such railway terminal certificates and the interest thereon, the city may convey by way of mortgage or deed of trust, any or all of the right-of-way and property acquired or to be acquired through the issue of such railway terminal certificates, which mortgage or deed of trust shall be issued in such manner as shall be directed by the city council, and acknowledged and recorded in manner provided by law for the acknowledgment and recording of mortgages on real estate; and may contain such provisions and conditions not in conflict with the provisions of this act, as may be deemed necessary to fully secure the payment of the railway terminal certificates described therein.

Any such mortgage or deed of trust may carry the grant of a privilege or right to maintain or operate railway terminal property acquired thereby, for a period not exceeding twenty years from the date when such property may come into the possession of any person or corporation as the result of foreclosure proceedings, which privilege or right may fix the rates of fare and freight which the person or corporation securing the same as the result of foreclosure, shall be entitled to charge in the operation of said property for a period not exceeding twenty years, subject to authority of the railroad commission.

Whenever, and as often as default shall be made in the payment of any railway terminal certificates issued and secured by mortgage or deed of trust as aforesaid, or in the payment of the interest thereon when due, and any such default shall have continued for the space of twelve months after notice thereof has been given to the mayor and comptroller of the city issuing such certificates, it shall be lawful for any such mortgagee or trustee, upon the request of the holder or holders of a majority in amount of the certificates issued and outstanding under such mortgage or deed of trust, to declare the whole principal or all of such certificates as may be outstanding, to be at once due and payable, and to proceed to foreclose such mortgage or deed of trust in any court of competent jurisdiction. At a foreclosure sale the mortgagee or the holders of such certificates may become the purchaser or purchasers of the property and the rights and privileges sold, if he or they be the highest bidders.

Any terminals acquired by any such foreclosure, shall be subject to regulation by the common council of the city to the same extent as if the right to construct, maintain and operate such property had been acquired through a direct grant, without the intervention of foreclosure proceedings. Provided, however, that no railway terminal certificate or mortgage shall ever be issued by any city under the provisions of this act, unless and until the question of the adoption of the ordinance by the common council making provision for the issue thereof shall have first been submitted to popular vote and approved by a majority of the qualified voters of the city voting on such question.

Separate terminal accounts; purpose; items, annual report, expert examination. SECTION 5. Every such city owning or operating railway terminals shall keep the books of account for such railway terminals distinct from other city accounts, and in such manner as to show the true and complete financial results of such city ownership or ownership and operation as the case may be. Such accounts shall be so kept as to show the actual cost to such city of railway terminals and right-of-way owned, all cost of maintenance, extension and improvements, all operating expenses of every description, in case of such city operation, the amount set aside for sinking fund purposes, and the value of such service as may be rendered by such railway terminals to any other city department, without charge. Such accounts shall also show reasonable allowance for interest, depreciation and insurance, and also estimates of the amount of taxes that would be chargeable against such property if owned by a private corporation.

The common council shall cause to be printed annually for public distribution, a report showing the financial results in form, as aforesaid, of such city ownership, or ownership and operation. The accounts of such railway terminals, kept as aforesaid, shall be examined at least once a year by an expert accountant, who shall report to the common council the results of his examination. Such expert accountant shall be selected in such manner as the common council shall direct, and he shall receive for his services such compesation to be paid out of the income or revenues for such railway terminals as the city council may prescribe.

Railroad commission's powers. SECTION 6. The railroad commission is vested with power over railway terminals acquired or established under the provisions of this act, and all the provisions of chapter 362, laws of 1905 and acts amendatory thereof are made applicable thereto.

Conflicting laws repealed. SECTION 7. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are repealed.

Location of reservoirs; acquisition and protection of other franchises; Eagle river to be kept navigable; tolls. SECTION 1. Subject to the supervision and control hereinafter provided for, authority is hereby granted unto Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, in order to promote the purposes hereinafter set forth, to create, construct, acquire, maintain and operate a system of water reservoirs located in or along the Wisconsin river at points north of township forty (40) north, of range ten (10) east, and in or along any or all of the direct or indirect tributaries of the Wisconsin river that discharge into said river at any point north of the south line of township thirty-four (34) north, in this state, excepting that part of the Eagle river and lakes lying between the point where Eagle river enters Cranberry lake, in section thirty-one (31) township forty (40) north, of range eleven (11) east, and the Wisconsin river, and for that purpose said grantee may construct, acquire and maintain all such dams, booms, sluiceways, locks and other structures in, along or across any and all of said tributaries, not above excepted, and the said portion of the Wisconsin river, as may be necessary or reasonably convenient to accomplish the purposes of this grant, and may clean out, straighten, deepen or otherwise improve any of said tributaries, in order to improve the navigation thereof and of said Wisconsin river and prevent injury to property bordering on said waters. All franchises, other than corporate franchises, and all riparian rights and rights of flowage, either perfected or inchoate, acquired by purchase or grant, by any person or by any corporation organized to improve the navigation for any purpose, of either of said Wisconsin or Tomahawk rivers or any of their tributaries, not above excepted, shall be and hereby are made assignable to the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, and shall be of the same force and effect in the possession and ownership of such assignee to accomplish the purposes of this act as the same may be before assignment to accomplish their original purpose. But this act shall not amend or repeal chapter 532 of the laws of 1887, nor chapter 252 of the laws of 1889, nor chapter 483 of the laws of 1905, nor chapter 26 of the laws of 1903, nor any amendment thereof, nor abridge the rights, powers or duties conferred by said acts, nor authorize the taking by the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, by the power of eminent domain, of any property used under or pursuant to said acts, nor any other property devoted to public uses; except that the dam authorized by and now maintained under said chapter 532 of the laws of 1887 may be raised, or a new dam or dams which are hereby authorized, may be constructed and maintained, in and across the Eagle river between Long and Cranberry lakes at any convenient point or points in townships thirty-nine (39) and forty (40) north, of range eleven (11) east, so as to raise and hold the water in Long lake aforesaid six inches, and no more, higher than the high water mark to which the water has been customarily raised and held by means of said present dam; provided, however, that between May 1st and the succeeding November 1st of each year the waters shall not be drawn down in Long lake more than eighteen (18) inches below said present high water mark as established by said dam now constructed and maintained, and provided further that said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall prior to June 1st, 1909, by such dam or dams, and by locks, marine slides or other safe and convenient means, make and thereafter maintain the Eagle river between said Long and Cranberry lakes navigable for the safe and convenient passage of boats of all kinds and sizes up to and including boats fifty feet in length and of twelve foot beam and drawing five feet of water. Said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall have the right to charge and collect reasonable and uniform tolls for the passage of boats through and over said works proportioned to the size of the boat, not, however, exceeding in the aggregate the actual cost of the care, maintenance and operation of said locks, marine slides or other means of passage.

Purposes of reservoirs. SECTION 2. The said authority is granted for the purpose of producing as nearly a uniform flow of water as practicable in the Wisconsin and Tomahawk rivers through all seasons by holding back and storing up in said reservoirs the surplus water in times of great supply, and discharging the same in times of drought and a scarcity of water, and thereby, and by other means, improving the navigation of said Wisconsin and Tomahawk rivers throughout their entire length, for boats, barges and other water craft, and for the running, driving, rafting, booming, storing, sorting and delivering of logs, timber and lumber, and other forest products, and for the purpose of improving the usefulness of said streams for all public purposes, and of diminishing the damage and injury by floods and freshets to property, both public and private, located along said waters. It shall be the duty of said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company to so manage, operate and maintain all of its said reservoirs and other works that the purposes aforesaid shall be accomplished to the greatest practicable extent and so that as nearly a uniform flow of water as practicable shall be maintained at all times and at all points on the said Wisconsin and Tomahawk rivers, and during the times when it may be found to be impracticable to maintain at the same time such uniform flow in the Wisconsin river, both below the north line of Lincoln county and above the same line, the portions of said streams above said line shall be given preference.

Condemnation proceedings. State lands. SECTION 3. For the purpose of creating, acquiring, maintaining and operating the dams and other works, authorized as aforesaid, and subject to the supervision and control hereinafter provided for, the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company excepting as herein otherwise excepted or provided, is hereby authorized to take and use any lands, riparian or other rights, that may be required for the creation, construction and maintenance of any and all reservoirs, dams and other structures and improvements that may be necessary to accomplish the purposes of this act, and whenever it cannot agree with the owner or owners of any such required lands, or other property, for the purchase thereof and for the compensation to be paid therefor, the said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company may acquire title to any such lands and other property above specified, or the right to use same for said purposes, by the exercise of the power of eminent domain under and in pursuance of sections 1777a, 1777b, 1777c and 1777d of the Wisconsin statutes of 1898 and the laws amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, but the said company shall have no right to take or enter into possession or overflow any of the property condemned until it shall have first paid in the manner provided by section 1777c, the damages awarded.

And in case the possession or use of any such property shall be obtained by said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, before acquiring the title thereto or the right to use thereof by purchase or condemnation, the owner or owners of the same property shall have the same right to institute proceedings for condemnation thereof and ascertainment of damages to be paid, as is granted by the aforesaid statutes relating to the exercise of eminent domain. In case any lands of the state of Wisconsin be required to be taken or overflowed for any of the purposes of this act the railroad commission of Wisconsin shall appraise and fix the damage to be caused by such taking or overflow, and the amount thereof shall be paid into the state treasury by the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company before the taking or overflow shall occur.

Tolls secured by liense; other companies taxable therewith; railroad commission to regulate. SECTION 4. In case said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall improve any navigable tributary of the Wisconsin river not herein excepted or shall acquire the improvements or the control of the improvements of any river improvement company already operating on any such stream and shall so keep in repair and operate the works as to render the driving of logs and other floatables to the mouth of such tributary reasonably practicable and certain, it may charge and collect reasonable and uniform tolls upon all such logs, timber and other floatables driven or floated on said stream, and shall have all of the rights and remedies granted to river improvement companies by section 1777 of the Wisconsin statutes, and all amendments thereof, including the right of lien therein provided for, and shall be charged with all the duties and obligations imposed upon such river improvement companies under like circumstances.

When said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall have created or acquired and maintained in successful operation water reservoirs in accordance with this act, of a capacity sufficient to store up in times of abundance and retain and discharge in times of scarcity two billion cubic feet of water that would not be so stored up and retained by nature it shall, subject to the supervision and control hereinafter provided for, be entitled to charge, collect and receive reasonable and uniform tolls from the owner or owners or lessee or lessees of each and every improved and operated water power located upon the Wisconsin river, or any tributaries thereof, below any said reservoirs and benefitted thereby, but not exceeding in the aggregate of all its revenues sufficient to pay all reasonable costs of operation and maintenance and a net annual return of six per cent on the cash capital actually paid in on stock subscriptions to the grantee. Said tolls shall be semi-annually fixed, ascertained and determined by the railroad commission of Wisconsin on or about the first day of July and the first day of January of each year, for the six months' period preceding each of said dates. Said tolls shall be fixed in proportion to the benefits conferred by the reservoir system upon each of the improved and operated water powers aforesaid. It shall be the duty of the grantee to employ competent hydraulic engineers to be selected by the railroad commission of Wisconsin to assist in determining the tolls to be charged as aforesaid and the expense thereof shall be treated as a part of the cost of maintenance and operation of said works. If any such improved water power be operated by a lessee or lessees under lease or contract made prior to the enactment and publication of this act, then such lessee or lessees shall be chargeable with the payment of such tolls; otherwise the same shall be paid by the owner or owners of the water power. Each water power liable to tolls as above provided which shall be operated two months or more during any six months' toll period shall be subject to tolls for the whole of the same period; otherwise no tolls for that period shall be chargeable.

Railroad commission, semi-annual reports to; hearings on tolls; appeals from. Tolls, use and enforcement. SECTION 5. On or before June 15th and December 15th of each year, said Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall lay before the railroad commission of Wisconsin a statment showing all expenditures made or necessary to be made for the next six months' period next preceding July 1st and January 1st respectively of each year for maintenance and operation of such reservoir system, all capital stock of said company issued and then outstanding, the cash capital actually paid in, the storage capacity and location of each reservior, and all reports and data obtained from engineers employed as provided in section four of this act and such other information and statements as the commission shall require, together with a recommendation of the amount of tolls necessary to pay such cost of maintenance and operation and a net return of six per cent. per annum on the capital invested, and a recommendation as to the apportionment thereof against the owners or operators of improved powers in accordance with said section four. The railroad commission shall, thereupon, give to each water power operator proposed to be charged with tolls ten days' notice by mail of the amount of tolls recommended to be charged against him and of the time when and place where the railroad commission will hear objections to the proposed tolls. The railroad commission shall at the time appointed hear all objections made and may take evidence and make or cause to be made indpendent investigation of the validity of the same, and may adjourn, from time to time, and shall, as soon as practicable, on or about July 1st and January 1st of each year, determine and certify the amount of tolls to be collected from each water power operator for the period under consideration, and such tolls shall, thereupon be due and payable to the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company.

Any person in interest being dissatisfied with any order of the commission authorized to be made under this act, may commence an action in the circuit court of the county where the property affected is located, against the commission as defendant to vacate and set aside any such order within sixty days from the date of the mailing to such person of a copy of such order by the commission, on the ground that such order is unlawful or unreasonable, in which case the complaint shall be served with the summons. The commission shall immediately notify the said company by mail of the service of said complaint. Within twenty days after the mailing of such notice, to said company, the said company or said commission shall file its answer to said complaint and said action shall be at issue and stand ready for trial the same as any other action.

In all trials under this section the burden of proof shall be upon the plaintiff to show by clear and satisfactory evidence that the order of the commission complained of is unlawful or unreasonable as the case may be. Every party to said action, within sixty days after the service of a copy of the order of judgment of the circuit court may appeal to the supreme court.

No tolls shall be levied or used to pay for any part of the original construction or purchase or betterment of the reservoir system. The amount of such tolls shall be a lien upon the water power, dam, franchises and flowage rights of the person or corporation chargeable with such tolls and in case such tolls shall not be paid when due the person or corporation entitled to collect the same, shall be entitled to sue for and collect the same, by an action at law, or by a suit in equity for the foreclosure and enforcement of said lien, and for sale of the property affected thereby pursuant to such judgment of foreclosure.

Forestry board to regulate constructions and flow. Railroad commission's approval of stock requisite. Separate sources for cost and maintenance. SECTION 6. No dam or reservoir not now in existence or heretofore authorized shall be constructed or created until the plan therefor showing the form and location of the dam and a description of the lands to be overflowed thereby be first submitted to the state board of forestry and approved thereby, after first giving reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard, to all persons interested, by publication in one or more newspapers most likely to give such notice, or such other notice as the board shall deem advisable; nor shall any petition be filed for the condemnation of any property for the purposes of this act without first having attached thereto the approval in writing of said board. Said board shall cause the height to which the water may be raised by any dam to be marked by permanent monuments and bench marks and shall have supervision and control of the times and extent of the drawing of water from the reservoirs, and the power to compel the maintenance of all reservoirs, established. They shall have authority to employ at the expense of said improvement company hydraulic engineers and other persons to assist them in obtaining the information necessary to a proper discharge of their duties, such expense to be treated as part of the cost of constructoin or maintenance and operation of the reservoir system. No capital stock of said improvement company shall be issued until the proposed issue thereof shall have been submitted to the railroad commission of Wisconsin and said commission shall have ascertained, determined and certified that the proposed issue will be in consideration of money or labor or property estimated at its true money value actually received by said company, equal to the par value thereof, and it shall be the duty of the said commission to act promptly on any such proposition submitted. The money received by said company upon account of capital stock shall be used only in payment of the original cost of purchase, construction or betterment of the reservoir system and of the work preliminary thereto and necessary to prepare for or to determine upon the same; and all tolls collected as hereinbefore authorized shall be applied only to the payment of cost of maintenance and operation of the system and payment of the net return on capital above provided for; to the end that the capital stock shall be maintained at par value at all times.

Fishways. Free passage of logs, etc. SECTION 7. All dams erected or acquired and maintained by the grantee shall be subject to all of the requirements of the statutes now in effect, and all that may be hereafter enacted relating to the providing of good and sufficient fishways in said dams, and shall be equipped with all necessary slides, chutes, guide booms and piers for the passage of logs and timber over or through the same.

This act a public act. SECTION 8. This act is hereby declared to be a public act and for the accomplishment of public purposes, and shall be favorably construed to the accomplishment of said purposes.

Repeal and amendment reserved; time for completion; state may acquire. SECTION 9. The right is hereby reserved to the legislature to repeal or amend this act at any time; in case the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company shall not by the first day of January, 1909, have in operation reservoirs of the storage capacity of at least two billion cubic feet of water, then the rights and privileges granted by this act shall cease. The state of Wisconsin shall have the right at any time whenever it may have the constitutional power, to take over to itself and become the owner of all reservoirs and other works and property acquired by the Wisconsin Valley Improvement company, pursuant to this act, by paying therefor the cash capital actually paid on the capital stock of said company theretofore lawfully issued and outstanding or the actual valley of the physical properties so taken over and without any allowance for franchises or good will of the business, and if such actual value cannot be agreed upon between the state and such owner, then the same shall be determined by the railroad commission of Wisconsin.

In all cases where directed so to do by such tax commissioner, said assessors so selected shall fix and determine as provided by law the average valuation for assessment purposes, of all personal property owned or held by any person for use or used in any mercantile, manufacturing or other business in said city, and the valuations so fixed and determined by such assessors respectively shall be properly entered upon the assessment roll. Said assessors, so selected shall also constitute and be known as a board of appraisers and as such board shall fix and determine the valuation for assessment purposes as provided by law of any real estate or personal property designated by such tax commissioner whenever for any reason said tax commissioner shall direct that such property be so appraised or whenever any person shall make a demand upon said tax commissioner that any such property owned or held by him shall be so appraised for taxation purposes by said board of appraisers, and in either case the valuation by a majority vote of such appraisers shall be properly entered upon the assessment roll and stand as the assessment valuation of such property for such year, subject only to change by the board of review, as provided by law. If any of the five assessors so selected shall for any reason be unable or become disqualified to act in making any assessment or appraisal, or if any vacancy shall occur among their number by reason of death or otherwise, such tax commissioner shall select and appoint from among the remaining qualified assessors, an assessor to act in place of such assessor or to fill such vacancy, and the person so selected and appointed shall have the same powers and perform the same duties as other members of such board. Said tax commissioner shall thereupon assign to each of said districts one of said remaining assessors and thereupon said assessors shall proceed under the supervision and direction of said tax commissioner, to examine and determine as by law provided, the valuation for assessment purposes, of all real and personal property in their respective districts subject to taxation, excepting, however, when so directed by such tax commissioner, personal property owned or held for use or used in any mercantile, manufacturing or other business, and such valuations shall be entered upon the assessment roll subject to change by the board of review as provided by law. Where there are buildings upon any lot or parcel of land the value of the same shall be set forth in a separate column. The assessors may, if they deem it advisable, assess any lot or tract of land in such parcels or such subdivisions as they may deem proper, but it

Hearings on roll: notices to tax-payers; correction and review. SECTION 5. After the valuations and assessments of the several assessors and of said board of appraisers shall have been received of all personal property subject to taxation in such city, and such valuations and assessments shall have been duly entered upon the assessment rolls for the several wards of such city in the manner and as by law required, the tax commissioner shall give notice in the official papers of said city for ten days, that on a certain day therein named, for each ward, the assessment roll for said ward will be open for the examination of the taxable inhabitants thereof; and the tax commissioner and assessors shall make all necessary additions to such roll and correct the same by changes in valuation or description, except where such valuation shall have been fixed by a majority vote of said board of appraisers, so as to make the roll as perfect as possible. Any act done by a majority of the board of assessors, shall have the same force and effect as if done by the tax commissioners and all the assessors. After the corrections are made, the tax commissioner shall submit the corrected assessment rolls to the board of review.

Height and location of dam. SECTION 1. The Beans Eddy Power company, its associates, successors and assigns, are hereby authorized and empowered to construct and maintain a dam, not higher than a sufficient height to maintain a fifteen foot head, across the Wisconsin river upon any land they may own or have an interest in, in sections six (6), seven (7) and eight (8), township twenty-six (26) north, range seven (7) east.

Purposes; surplus power. SECTION 2. They may use such dam for the purpose of improving the navigation of said river, of creating power for milling, manufacturing and general hydraulic purposes, and for any other purposes which said company, its associates, successors and assigns may be legally empowered to do. The power is also hereby granted to lease and dispose of any surplus water which may arise in carrying out any of said purposes, and, for the purpose of so disposing of such surplus, to build race-ways, flumes and other equipment necessary and convenient for so doing.

Condemnation proceedings. SECTION 3. Said Beans Eddy Power company, its associates, successors and assigns, for the purpose of acquiring any flowage rights which they may deem necessary in carrying out any of the powers hereby granted, may exercise all of the powers of eminent domain as provided in chapter 86 of the statutes of Wisconsin.

Free passage of timber products. SECTION 4. Said dam shall be so constructed and maintained as not to hinder, impede or obstruct the free navigation of the Wisconsin river.

The said grantees shall build, maintain and keep in repair suitable slides and chutes in said dam for the running of logs and other timber products over the same, sufficient in capacity to accommodate all such logs and products as may be floated down said river, and shall maintain a sufficient unobstructed channel for the passage of all logs and other floatables through the pond created by said dam, and all logs and other floatables destined to points below the said dam shall be taken by the owners of said dam when they reach the flowage of the pond created thereby, or reach any jam that may be caused by the stopping of logs or other floatables by the works or pond of such owners and be driven free of charge, and with reasonable dispatch, through said flowage and pond and over said dam. The provisions of section 1601 of the Wisconsin statutes shall not apply to said dam.

The dam erected under the authority hereby granted shall be provided with a good and sufficient fishway to be approved by the said state board of commissioners of fisheries, and said fishway shall, at all times, be kept in good repair and open for the free and easy passage of fish up and down said dam. Should the owners of such dam and any persons desiring to use any part of said hydraulic power disagree as to the reasonable rental therefor, the said owners are hereby required to furnish such power to the persons so desiring the same, upon such persons tendering, and keeping such tender good, the amount which said owner may claim to be a reasonable charge therefor. Such payment or tender shall not be an admission of the reasonableness of the claim as specified to be made under this provision, but the person receiving said power shall be entitled to be paid back all of said amount which it has claimed was in excess of a reasonable amount, unless within thirty days after such tender or payment the said owners shall have commenced an action for the determination of what is a reasonable rental for such water power.

In case of such disagreement the owner may commence an action in the circuit court for Marathon or any other adjoining county, against such persons aforesaid, for the purpose of determining what is a reasonable rental for such water. Any dispute of fact arising in said action shall be triable by jury. The judgment in such action shall determine what is a reasonable rental therefor and shall direct the said owners to furnish the same upon the payment thereof and shall enjoin them from charging or attempting to charge any other or greater rental than the sum of the judgment. Such judgment shall be subject to revision from time to time by said court, upon petition by either party. Any issue of fact arising upon said petition for revision shall also be tried by a jury. The verdict of the jury in all such cases shall have the same effect as a verdict of the jury in actions at law.

MEMORIAL NO. 1.

Requesting congress to make an appropriation to defray the necessary expenses of a survey or other work, and to report upon the advisability of building a ship canal to connect the great lakes with the Mississippi river via Portage city in Columbia county, Wisconsin.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States:

WHEREAS, The present failure of the transportation companies to keep pace with the wonderful commercial development of the country, and more especially of the great northwest, has become a question of national importance; and

WHEREAS, Efforts have been made and modes suggested from time to time to connect the great lakes with the Mississippi river by the way of Chicago and the Illinois river with a ship canal; and

WHEREAS, We believe a deep water way between the great lakes and the Gulf of Mexico by way of the Mississippi river would be a great advantage to the country at large and to the state of Wisconsin and would connect the northwest and the markets of the world; and

WHEREAS, The most natural, favorable and cheapest route for such canal is through the Fox and Wisconsin rivers, via Portage city, Wisconsin, and as such improvement is for the benefit of the whole people and not merely for the people of our state; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That our representatives in congress are hereby requested to use every endeavor to secure an appropriation to defray the expenses of a competent survey to be made along the Fox and Wisconsin river route via Portage city, and that special attention be given that portion of the route between Portage city and the Mississippi river in order to determine whether the improvement of the Wisconsin river or the digging of a canal would give the best results.

Be it further resolved, That the governor is requested immediately to transmit a copy of this memorial to the President of the United States, to the presiding officers of the senate and house of representatives and to our Wisconsin senators and representatives in congress.

JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 9.

Relating to United States Senator Spooner.

John C. Spooner, while a student in our state university, enlisted as a private soldier in the Union army. He was honorably mustered out of service with the rank of major, by brevet.

For two years he was the private secretary of the late Governor Fairchild.

In 1872, he was a member of the assembly from St. Croix county. During the next twelve years he became a good lawyer and enjoyed a very lucrative practice. Railroads and municipalities were his clients.

On the 28th day of January, 1885, at the age of forty-two years and with but very little effort on his part, he was elected to the United States senate. He served one term, when he was succeeded by the Hon. Wm. F. Vilas. He was again elected in 1897 and again in 1903, and is now serving his third term.

During his sixteen years of service for this state as United States senator, he has put all other professional business behind him and has devoted himself exclusively to the duties of the great office, to which the people of this state elected him.

He was thoroughly at home on the floor of the United States senate. He easily stood at the head of the constitutional lawyers in that great forum.

He has taken a leading part in all of the great debates of the last ten years. His plume has always been seen in the hottest part of the fight. He has been honored by the confidence of all three of the presidents, under whom he has served. They have sought his counsel and have relied upon his advice.

As a constructive statesman, he had no peer. He fought his opponents in oratorical battle, upon the floor of the senate with skill and courage—but when the contest was over, he carried no bitterness in his heart.

By reason of this, he brought discordant factions to mutual conciliation and agreement and thus accomplished good results for the whole republic.

His ideals were high. His practice was in harmony with his ideals.

He has refused cabinet positions and has more than once declined the ermine of the supreme court. He was always loyal to the principles of the republican party.

He loved his work in the senate better than any other work of his life. For that work, he abandoned all else. For this loyal, patient, self-denying service, he is honored and respected by the people of the whole country. Now, at the very height of his justly earned fame, he has resigned this highest of all honors that the state could give to him. We were startled upon receipt of the telegram announcing his resignation. We pause, and we ask—is the love of honor and fame and glory dying out of men's hearts?

Be it resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That we sincerely regret this surprising decision of our honored senator to give up the joy and ambition of his life and return to the practice of his profession.

That we herewith extend to him our hearty appreciation of the faithful service which he has rendered to his country and state,—that we tender to him the earnest wish that he may yet live a long, happy and useful life.

CUMULATIVE INDEX

SESSION LAWS OF 1899–1907, INCLUSIVE.

Note.—The new order of publication requires two sets of references for the Laws of 1907. The abbreviation "st.," in this index, applies to the statute section numbers in Part I. All other references are to the chapters in Part II. Thus: '07, c. 499, st. 1797m—20 is a double reference to the statute section, 1797m—20 in Part I and to the skeleton chapter, 499, in Part II; but '07, c. 404, s. 9, is a single reference to section 9 of chapter 404 in Part II. The abbreviations, (3rd), (4th), (g. c.), s.c.), stand for various classes of cities; e. g., cities, third class; cities, general or special charter.

For repealed laws, see tables and special index immediately preceding this index.
